What You Need to Enroll

Enrolling as an Individual

If you are an individual or sole proprietor/single person business, sign in with your Apple ID to get started. You'll need to provide basic personal information, including your legal name and address.

Enrolling as an Organization

If you're enrolling your organization, you'll need an Apple ID as well as the following to get started:

A D-U-N-S® Number

Your organization must have a D-U-N-S Number so that we can verify your organization's identity and legal entity status. These unique nine-digit numbers are assigned by Dun & Bradstreet and are widely used as standard business identifiers. You can check to see if your organization already has a D-U-N-S Number and request one if necessary. They are free in most jurisdictions. Learn more >

Legal Entity Status

Your organization must be a legal entity so that it can enter into contracts with Apple. We do not accept DBAs, Fictitious Businesses, Trade names, or branches.

Legal Binding Authority

As the person enrolling your organization in the Apple Developer Program, you must have the legal authority to bind your organization to legal agreements. You must be the organization's owner/founder, executive team member, senior project lead, or have legal authority granted to you by a senior employee.

Considerations in Forming a Limited Liability Company

A limited liability company ("LLC") is a new form of business entity that combines the operational flexibility and tax status of a general partnership with the limited liability protection traditionally associated with limited partnerships and corporations. A LLC has far greater operational flexibility than either a Subchapter C Corporation, a Subchapter S Corporation or a Limited Partnership.

The Principal Characteristics of Limited Liability Companies

- 1) The LLC is not required to hold annual meetings or to comply with the many operational restrictions imposed upon corporations.
- 2) The restrictions on the number and types of shareholders applicable to a subchapter S corporation do not apply to the owners of a LLC (the "members"). The members of a LLC may also participate in management to a greater extent than limited partners.
- 3) A LLC differs from a general partnership inasmuch as its members are not personally liable for the obligations of the LLC. It also differs from a limited partnership in that no member is jointly and severally liable for obligations of the LLC, unlike the general partner in a limited partnership. A LLC is subject, however, to disclosure, record keeping and reporting requirements that do not apply to a general partnership.
- 4) A LLC is a business entity consisting of one or more "persons" (meaning an individual, general partnership, limited partnership, association, trust, estate or corporation,) conducting business for any lawful purpose. A LLC may be an incorporator, general partner, limited partner, applicant of a DBA, or a manager of any corporation, partnership, limited partnership or limited liability company.
- 5) LLCs consist of members, managers, and employees. Management of the company is reserved to the members or managers as specified in the Certificate of Organization. Generally, neither members, managers, nor employees are personally liable for any debt or obligation of the company.
- 6) LLCs are creatures of statute and become effective once having filed an approved Certificate with the Division. Like most business types filed with the Division, LLC's are formed by filing a Certificate (called Certificate of Organization). Foreign LLCs may transact business in the state once having completed an Application for Registration. LLCs may amend their Certificate, file Certificate of Dissolution, and must file an Annual Report.

Creating a Limited Liability Company or LLC

LLCs are "organized" by filing with the state a Certificate of Organization setting forth (U.C.A. Section 48-3a-201):

- a) The name of the Limited Liability Company (must contain the words "Limited Liability Company," "Limited Company," "L.C." or "L.L.C.").
- b) The business purpose or purposes for which the Limited Liability Company is organized.
- c) The street address of its registered office in the State of Utah.
- d) The name of its initial registered agent at that address; the agent shall be a person residing or authorized to do business in the State of Utah.
- e) The street address of the company's designated office or a statement that the company's registered office shall be its designated office.
- f) The name and street address of each organizer who is not a member or manager.
- g) If the Limited Liability Company is to be manager-managed, a statement that the company is to be managed by a manager or managers and the names and street addresses of the managers who are to serve.
- h) If the Limited Liability Company is to be member-managed, a statement that the company is to be managed by its members and the names and street addresses of the members who are to serve. The Limited Liability Company shall at all times have at least one (1) member.
- i) Any other provision, not inconsistent with law, that the members choose to include the Certificate of Organization (U.C.A. Section 48-3a-201\(3\)).
- j) The certificate of organization shall be signed by at least one (1) organizer (U.C.A. Section 48-3a-203\(1b\)).
